126 km from Roquetas de Mar, through the interior, we come to Guadix, a town in the Granada province with a great cultural identity. Added to the beauty of its landscapes and villages, it is a unique experience offered by its typical cave houses.

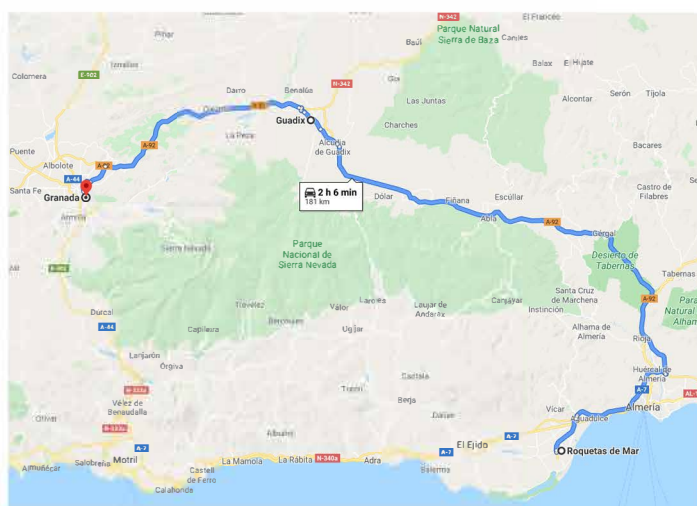

The cave-house culture dates back to the Arabs, who realized the ease with which the red clay on the slopes of the mountains could be excavated to make these unique dwellings. Guadix also encloses in its historical centre remains of Roman architecture, souks, mosques and christian churches.

We continue our trip to Granada; the Alhambra is one of the historical landmarks of this city and one of the most visited in Europe.

The visit to the Alhambra should not be improvised; it is advisable to purchase the ticket in advance (www.alhambra-patronato.es)
